

How do you ensure a guest feels completely at ease?

Tipp von Oliver Friedrich

The exciting thing about being a host is that every situation is different. In fact, you'll often find that even at the same table there will be people with very different requirements. Making sure you meet the specific requirements of each individual guest is both an art and a pleasure, but of course it's true that everyone is the architect of their own fortune.